

In your Room

You sleep as peaceful as a child
As a child I never could be
You never believed in yourself
So don't expect, you don't receive

In your room you feel so save
In your room you never have to be brave

In your room you never have to give
In your room you never can live

You wake me as violent as you can
You taught me how cruel life can be
And I'll dream my dream again
So don't expect, you don't receive

In your room you feel so save
In your room you never have to be brave

In your room you never have to give
In your room you never can live

In your room you're so alone
In your room you're always small
